LATVIA

A large group of men, likely workers or factory owners, are posed in an industrial setting. They are arranged in several rows, some standing on a raised platform or balcony. The men are dressed in formal 19th-century clothing, including suits, jackets, and hats. In the background, there is a large, ornate structure, possibly a factory building or a monument, with a prominent circular archway. The overall scene suggests a significant industrial or manufacturing facility. The image is overlaid with a semi-transparent red and purple gradient.

Continuing the tradition of 120 years of history where the Latvian industrial revolution began.
